

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF NEBRASKA

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

vs.

JON GREGORY HILLMAN,

Defendant.

4:23CR3015

DETENTION ORDER

Defendant was previously released on conditions. A hearing was held on February 22, 2024 and, at such hearing, the Defendant waived his right to a detention hearing and evidentiary hearing regarding violations of such conditions. The court concludes the defendant must be detained.

There is a rebuttable presumption that no condition or combination of conditions of release will reasonably assure the defendant's appearance at court proceedings and the safety of the community because there is probable cause to believe the defendant committed a drug crime under the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. § 801 et seq.), for which the defendant could be required to serve ten or more years in prison. The defendant has not rebutted this presumption.

Based on the information of record, the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant's release would pose a risk of nonappearance at court proceedings, and by clear and convincing evidence that the defendant's release would pose a risk of harm to the public.

Specifically, the court finds, as it has previously, that the defendant has a criminal history of violating the law and court orders; has a history of harming or threatening harm to others; is addicted to or abuses mood-altering chemicals and is likely to continue such conduct and violate the law if released; lacks a stable residence; has limited employment contacts; has failed to appear for court proceedings in the past; has mental health issues which will pose a risk of harm if the defendant is released; and presented no evidence opposing the presumption of detention.

The Court knows of no conditions or combination of conditions (see 18 U.S.C. § 3142(c)), that will sufficiently ameliorate the risks posed if the defendant is released.

Directions Regarding Detention

The defendant is committed to the custody of the Attorney General or a designated representative for confinement in a corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences or held in custody pending appeal. The defendant must be afforded a reasonable opportunity to consult privately with defense counsel. On order of the United States Court or on request of an attorney for the Government, the person in charge of the corrections facility must deliver the defendant to the United States marshal for a court appearance.
